Alan Johnson graduated from the Great Falls Public Schools. He received his undergraduate degree in music from the University of North Dakota and his graduate degree from the University of Montana. He has used this training in teaching in Minnesota and Montana. Presently in his retirement, Alan plays in many local ensembles including the Great Falls Municipal Band, the Community Band and the Community Jazz Band as well as various small ensembles such as the TaterSax Quartet, the Trombone Quartet and the Clarinet Choir of Great Falls.

James F. Rickley is presently accompanist and organist at New Hope Lutheran Church. Originally from the Pennsylvania area, he chose to live, work and retire in Great Falls. His music composition training was through the University of Cincinnati and Temple University. He served as a music teacher and school administrator in Pennsylvania, Nevada and Montana. He is the owner of the music publishing firm WayWordBound with compositional works available through the online operations of Hal Leonard Corporation.

where each original piece will be played twice
